

We worked very hard to get protection from telemarketers' obnoxious invasion of our peace within our own homes. I protest any effort to weaken Wisconsin's consumer protection from unwanted home invasions by telemarketers and suggest you would be better advised to adopt laws at least as strong as the one existing in Wisconsin. . .stronger would not hurt a darn thing.